DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees.

See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 22-74 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over all of the claims of U.S. Patent Numbers 6,645,074, 6,322,309, 6,190,255. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the instant application are substantially the same as the above listed patents and serves only to broaden the claims of the applications that were previously allowed which is obvious to a artisan of ordinary skill.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Bally POKER PLUS game of 1995. Bally discloses a Poker Plus game that discloses a special win, a win of a "4 of a kind" is eligible for the bonus round. The bonus round displays 5 cards that while they are the same cards as in the basic round are distinct from the basic round cards in that they are in different positions that can not be seen by the player. The player is given the chance to pick a specific card from the 5 available cards and that selected card is associated with a multiplier which is to double the win of the preliminary game. After the player selects a card all of the remaining choices are displayed to the player. With respect to the claim limitations that are related to only a slot machine and reels it is known that a card game can be played on reels, additionally since the applicant has disclosed the non criticality of which primary game can be played it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize any reel slot game and thus the claim limitations to the reels would be realized to one of ordinary skill in the art as obvious analogous subject matter.

Citation of Pertinent Prior Art

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The three GB references are cited to disclose a selection game and award of a prize.
